Bruce Wu, AI Architect Engineer
Quarry Bay, Hong Kong SAR

Summary

With 12 years in tech, I'm currently an Software Architect at vivo, where I develop advanced AI-driven systems. Before this, I've worked as a Senior Software Engineer at Fenqile Technology Co. and IBM, and Chow Tai Fook Group. My accomplishments include creating a scalable AI recommendation engine, a user-friendly coupon system, and secure payment solutions. Skilled in Java, Python, C++, and more, I'm proficient in full-stack development and expert in system design. Honored as a Star Performer at vivo and holding several patents, I'm a published author on AI optimizations, demonstrating my leadership and technical depth in the field.
